Andrew Alston appointed Managing Director of BreachAware®

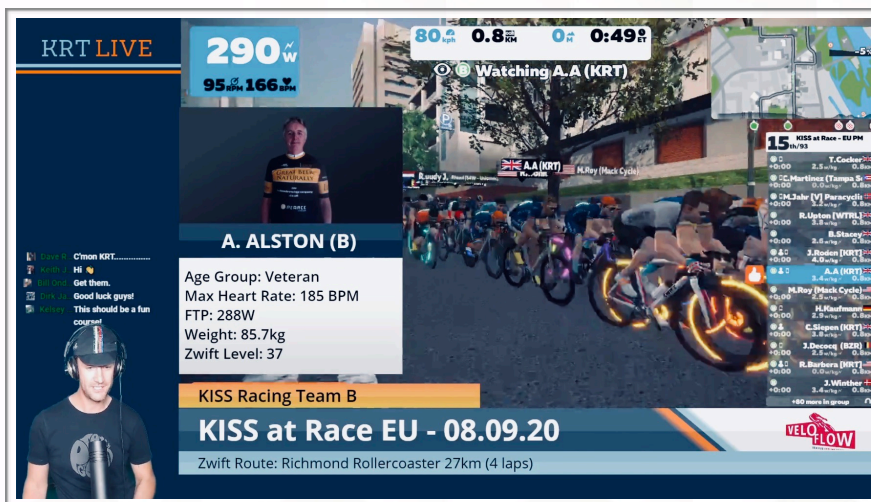

As part of Business Intelligence Theorems (BITs) restructuring of BreachAware®, Andrew Alston, Principal of Global Markets at BITs has been appointed Managing Director of BreachAware® with immediate effect.

Andrew brings his vast experience from organisations including BT Global Services, the Ministry of Defence to Global Technology Security SME's. He is also one of the founding Directors of BreachAware®.

Says Andrew "I am honoured to be recognised by my peers to lead BreachAware as Managing Director through its next stage of evolution. Knowing the extent of the expertise, knowledge, philosophy and ethos that Business Intelligence Theorems brings to BreachAware, we have already drawn up and are delivering a roadmap that will focus on analytics and insights to gain the maximum knowledge and value out of our data."

"I'm energised by our plans to launch a number of new service offerings focussed on inherent value rather than becoming an expensive security add-on cost to cyber security. I want every enterprise and eventually every consumer to understand their cyber footprint so as to protect their privacy, IPR and family."

An avid cyclist, Andrew is also club secretary of the Ludlow Brewery Cycling Team focussed on Road Racing, Time Trialling, Cyclo X, Club Runs and Sportives with the aim to bring cycling to the Community. If you're lucky, you might even bump into him on the online virtual racing app, Zwift, racing for the KISS Racing Team.
